MONDAY SVENIE NOVEMBER 17.

A Great Banking House. Baring Brothers & Co, in liquidation! Next to the Bank of England this house has been regarded as absolutely invincible

Not only its vast wealth, but its exceptionally high character placed it upon the very pinnacle of public esteem.

Early in August last, following the revo-lution in Buenos Ayres and the depreciation of Argentine securities on the London Stock Exchange, rumer made free with the name of the Barings, but the possibility of their becoming embarraesed almost transcended belief. The disturbance caused by ship-ments of gold to the Argentine and the drafts made upon this centre to supply a portion of the demand kept these numers alive for a time, but they died away in September and were not revived until a few days age, when the cable brought news that an important firm was in trouble, vaguely hinting at the Barings.

It is startling to think of the consequences had not the Bank of England, the Rothschilds and other financial powers come to the relief of the overloaded house. The crash that followed the failure of Overend Garney & Co., in 1866, with Habilities of BUILDING ASSOCIATION. fourteen mil ions sterring, is even now dis-tressingly vivid in the public mind. They manage these things better nowadays, and no financial institution either here or abroad will be permitted to actually fall if it has been conducting an honest business and shows its hand in time. The action of our Books: own city banks the other day in making up the deficit balances of three delinquents at the clearing house and issuing certificates to them was in a small way quite in the line of what has just been done in London.

In the hands of such skliful financiers as have come to the relief of the Barings, their assets will doubt ess be carried attog and sold to the best possibe advantage; but from the me gre details at hand it would ap-pear that no ne = contracts of any kind will be made, and that the House is victually in liquidation to-day.

The mysterious influence that so long depressed our so k market in face of sopatently favorable conditions is now explained. Doubtless the embarra-sed firm disposed of its "Americane" as among the most available of its resources, and the few in high places who may have known its position have also unquestionably the n seiling to etbut for the bold and clever stroke by which the disaster has been averted.—New York

A dispatch from London says: 'Foe gov-ernment has authorized the Bank of Eugland, if necessary, to issue an additional £2,000,000 in notes and will suspend the bank act if requisite. The original cause of the firm's troub'e was Russia's withdrawa' of several millions deposits, on learning of the firm's dealings in Argentine and Uruguay bonds. It is expected incoming investors will gradually relieve the strain on Another dispatch says: "The Bank of England, which is given the credit of saying the Barings, or, rather, their credit, is not ebtitled to this high distinction. It is not more than a week since the Bank of France paid into the Bank of England the sum of £2,000,000 in good to meet the demands of its clients and costomers in England and America. It was the great house of Rothschild that saved the Barings and brought confidence to the bankers of the metropolis and formulated the plan for pro-tecting the credit of the embarrassed fi m."
